Q: Python code not taking input (Newbie) I am new to Python and have been looking online for an answer and have found some posts but nothing seems to solve my problem. So basically I'm creating a small project for a school assignment, where the user inputs a string, which in turn creates a menu and does some work accordingly, the code I have created so far works if the strings input is a number, just a single word etc., but if the user inputs a string that starts with an 's' the program does not take the input and jumps to the function ending with: RuntimeError: not enough arguments for format string The code is: def format_menu(self, line, menu): if line is None: line = " if line.startswith(' '): print(menu) return elif line.startswith('-'): print(' ') print(menu) return elif not line: print(menu) return elif line == 'Select option : ': print('Option:', '*', menu) return else: print('You have chosen:') print(menu) return line = line.split(':') print('Input:', line)
