Project XMAS is a retro style, horror, single - player game where you need to return to your home. The map on which you will play is completely procedurally generated so every approach to complete the game will be different and specific. The game has a really creepy sound engine so it's highly recommended to play with headphones to hear that something is following you. Your main objective is to return to your home, but you have limited battery and energy. The game has good graphics style like old VHS tapes, so the atmosphere of the game is really specific and horrible. The game has a first-person point of view, it's highly recommended to play with headphones. Your only weapon is your hearing and flashlight. Project XMAS is created by only one person - Mistyczny Arbus. I'm creating this game since 3 months and it's still in development stage. Features: As I mentioned above: - 80 minigames - Control your sound and flashlight - Free Game as Indie Game - Single Player Game - Procedurally generated MAP - Scary Atmosphere - Creepy Sound Engine - One person created this game - Lots of Secrets - Cribs (switch to another room) - Doors (switch to another room) - Flashes (light source) - Fog - LOTS of music - COLD black color scheme - FREE - Indie Game - Retro Game - Horror Game
