Alchemist's RPG. Multifaceted game with two systems, one is a standard RPG system, the other is a system that combines a 4X game strategy with a board game. The whole game is a sandbox. You are a big mecha company, or corporation, and you have a huge base on top of a huge hill. A huge base to act as a base for all your researches and projects. Alchemy is here, chemistry as well. You can make a gun, a bomb, a laser or whatever you want! You can even make an improved version of a weapon, a better car or plane. RWTools is made to support those roles. You can control units like in a 4X game, but you can also use melee weapons. There is also a better way to learn your units skills. Through Arcane Symbols. RWTools is a turn based combat system. You can go from a basic melee attack to a combat with powerful support and defense. You can support your character by magic, by skills, by units, by artifacts, by planes. It's up to you. Production can be made with a lab, but using a robot will increase the efficiency of the production. A lot of different combinations can be made through the research tree, and you will always be able to create something new. You can craft units, artifacts, weapons, some buildings and some special items like Runes and other... > My eBay store! > > Achievements! > > No clip glitch on "Battlecry" or a poor animation on "Battlecry" > Custom Aiming Cam > Accelerate's sound, a random ring sound > Screenshots in the top right corner > FPS: 75 > Videos can be found at the UB page > -Recording at 1080p with HDR on > -The last video includes a random weapon for Player 1 and Player 2 > -Deleted a few-seconds of loading time. In the game you have to destroy a number of the enemies of your own kind. Robot enemies swarm you with an annoying level of intelligence. You kill them, you can see the level and the coin, which is collected as one unit. You then get this unit and can continue to eliminate enemies. Design team: The game design is a new fighting genre developed by the project leader. The combat portion of the game makes it suitable for many people. The project leader also created a character-based narrative and interfaces, which are suited to a variety of devices. You can play the game in two ways with the touch screen and keyboard, as well as with buttons and joysticks. The game of the project leader is divided into three categories - "Maze", "End" and the main game. In the first phase you run along the maze, then the game ends and depending on what character you used you end up in the "End", where you kill monsters who break through the barriers and throw you back into the maze. In all games you can gain access to the next level by getting more coins than your opponents. In general, the further you advance, the greater the waiting time for the next level, but in the case of this game, the game moves all the time. Game Development team: ● Design: The design is created by the game's creator, in such a way that the game can be played alone or cooperatively with friends. ● Development: Based on the finished design, programming is carried out and the game is improved in a test version. ● Testing: The full game is checked for the technical aspects, performance and also the functionality of the game's components. ● Presentation: The character profiles in the game, the animations and the game's dialogues are developed using the game's own engine and are integrated into the game. ● Release: The game is released for a few days, in order to evaluate the character of users and make any adjustments to the game's functionality. ● Operation: After the game is launched, it is being operated with your help. In general, the company will release a game, then test it with the players and only then will be released. ● Review and Beta: If the operation goes well, the game is then submitted for review and testing. After the beta period, the developers can make any adjustments to the game. ● Launch: If the game is successful, it will then be released on the official website. □Fun
