Phantom is a versatile all-rounder, convenient for all sorts of missions. It can take on dirt, fire and ice! The most difficult missions are easily solved! Main weapon: a high-capacity turret equipped with two long-range missiles. In order to improve the high cost of purchase in the "Federal Service" the player can own more than one of these "thousand-credit" vehicles at a time. In-game currency: - main currency is premium - for coins, used to buy vehicle parts or receive a discount for the rent for the workbench to produce new parts. - "lost" - is paid to the player for the key part, received from the starting of a part by the player. - "ATI" - is paid to the player for the repairs of the vehicle in time for the repair. Key features: - seven heavy and six light tanks. - seven medium tanks. - eight unique vehicles, including the unique "Vanguard", a vehicle for which the player, after purchasing the "Phantom", is able to receive a bonus of 1500 coins. - a unique vehicle “Constrictor” is a vehicle with which a player can combine the power of armour and the speed of a car in order to best survive an extremely difficult battle. Another interesting feature of the vehicle is the ability to quickly create a new vehicle from the current one. - a unique heavy and light multi-purpose vehicle, based on the configuration of the “Phantom”. - a unique versatile vehicle - we call it “for everywhere”. The gameplay is similar to “Armored Warfare”. - the game is played by the players individually. - you can have 3pcs vehicles (or more, based on the number of owned vehicles). - the game requires a good command of the rules. - the player will need to undertake various tasks. These can be carried out using any vehicle. - the game supports 3pcs vehicles. - the game requires a relatively large amount of time. Note: - the game provides only a single copy of vehicle models. - as the player advances in the game he will receive a vehicle for which the player gets bonuses, in the form of vehicles. - the game does not provide any bonuses to the purchased vehicles that are being available for sale.

Neuroanatomical differences in primate species and their implications for understanding human cognitive evolution. Neurobiology is a primary area of investigation when investigating the evolution of cognitive processes and understanding of their development. This multi-level comparative approach is critical in our interpretation of human evolution since we assume that the associations between neural and cognitive functions determined in the recent hominoid evolution are well conserved and comparable to the associations found in nonhuman primates, but such assumptions can be supported or not depending on the hypotheses generated and the methodology
