Clean Up for Home PC 24/7 Overview Clean Up for Home PC 24/7 is an all-in-one Windows cleaning application for those who are looking for a quick fix to keep their computer in top shape. It's a software package that functions a lot like a Swiss Army knife for the computer. Let's start with SmartCare. SmartCare is a tool that does everything you need to keep your PC running fast. It'll search your hard drive for files that are either not needed anymore, safe to delete, or are no longer being used by your PC. It gives you a number of options to select which files are up for review, and it lets you choose to eliminate items from your C drive, your D: drive or even your E: drive. You can also set it to use temporary files to search for files you need to delete, but don't have room to store permanently. You can even have your system search for files that were deleted by your last installation. You'll see your file space used by your system on the left-hand side of the software window, and you can remove items that you don't need by checking the box in front of them. When the find and delete process is done, it'll give you a summary of what was done and keep you informed about the process. You can choose to set a timer to review the files that are safe to delete, and you can choose to have the tool shut down when it's done. Clean Master is really a more powerful cleaning tool, that can clean up the Registry in one click. It'll search through your

The OED file can be either a plain text file containing pronunciation information or a.gzip or.tgz file, containing a compressed HTML file. The latter option will reduce network traffic but will increase the size of the library. Hi there, finally I managed to finish work on this project. I renamed this submission to "GBENP-3G" (G=genious by sfx), because the first version didn't have sufficient features. Some interesting stuff that I've added: 1. Multilanguage support. 2. Incremental update and the ability to remove existing files (files created by a previous version will be removed, so that users no longer need to manually delete their local settings and subfolders to get rid of the first version of the application). 3. Preferable to use the new Windows installer system that's available from here: 4. Some minor bugfixes. Tayra, May 12, 2006 GBENP 3G - now with multilanguage support Copyright (C) 2006 Free Software Foundation Since January 2006, I was working in this project:
