Each type of attack can be assigned to one of 4 buttons on the controller, depending on your weapon type. For example, if we take an arrow and we assign the attack to the Left Stick, we will end up with the following assignments for the arrows: Assign a sword to your main weapon and you will end up with the following assignments: Assign a shield and you will end up with the following assignments: If you assign your sword to the secondary weapon, you will end up with the following assignments: The attack button on your keyboard, however, is the one that will get
