“The in-game physics engine is at the heart of FIFA 22 and is the biggest innovation in the series since FIFA 07,” said Steven Paterson, Senior Producer at FIFA Development. “FIFA 22’s in-game physics engine will literally change the way you play FIFA and the ways you attack and defend,” said Paterson. The physics engine blends together rules, physics, and player traits into a new game that is fun to play, will feel more authentic, and is extremely enjoyable. More information on FIFA 22 including preview trailers is available at FIFA.com and FIFA YouTube, and on Twitter and Facebook. FIFA 22 DEVELOPED BY FIFA PS4 TEAM FIFA PS4 Team (PS4) is a new group of developers located at the United States National Team Training Facility (NSTF) in Christainburg, Maryland, USA. The game was developed using a team of passionate individuals from various nationalities. The team is led by Aaron McManus, FIFA PS4 Team’s Creative Director. Additional members include Christel Yan, Director, Jordan Bloechle, Lead Software Engineer, Andy Burns, Lead Programmer, and Jeremy Doyle, Lead Design Engineer. The team combines 20 years of gaming and development experience, including a number of football titles including FIFA 19. Since its creation in 2001, the NSTF has served as the official training facility for the United States Men’s and Women’s National Teams. The location includes not only the facilities but also the development, production, and marketing facilities for the software/technology used for the FIFA series of games. Aaron McManus, Creative Director at FIFA PS4 Team, said, “I’m excited to be working on FIFA for a third time with a talented, passionate team that has a proven history of delivering exciting and realistic gameplay. We’ve been incredibly fortunate to work with EA Sports in the past and so it’s really exciting to be part of the FIFA family again and to be able to bring the passion and dedication of the US Men’s National Team to the game.” FIFA 19 Sales & Charts FIFA 19 launched on September 27th, 2018 to positive critical reception and strong sales. Game sales for FIFA 19 are more than 6m units globally as

Features Key:

FIFA 22 introduces “HyperMotion Technology,” which uses motion capture data collected from real-life human players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from the players’ actual movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay.
