Transform sound with 11 all-inclusive audio effects Create great-sounding sound in your video production with easy-to-use audio effects Compatible with any VST compatible (VST2, ASIO, AU, DXi, RTAS) audio plugin host An... $49.97 Free Blue-beam (Audio-Technica) SFX Plugin Collection Audio-Technica Blue-beam is a powerful software solution designed for the Audio-Technica Blue-beam microphone. Blue-beam is a dual-microphone, Class A condenser microphone. It combines a true external cardioid and highly sensitive omni directional beam pattern to provide stable and versatile recording in a wide range of environments. Its extreme sensitivity enables it to pick up bass, treble, and midrange sounds even at extremely low signal levels. With Blue-beam's highly sensitive cardioid capsule, you can record high-quality acoustic and electric instruments, capture vocals, and eavesdrop conversations in a variety of recording situations. You can even observe your students' facial expressions on stage as they lip-sync or lip-read, and monitor crowd noise during musical performances. Blue-beam eliminates background noise by specifically isolating the recording from the environment while retaining the original sound source. You can also capture audio from sources far from the microphone, which maximizes the dynamic range of the Blue-beam. With Blue-beam's maximum dynamic range of 117dB and low noise floor, it is excellent for any type of recorded sound. Whether you are capturing speech on the phone, singing on stage, or listening to performance

As a student in one of the local high schools, many years ago, I was a champion in both of these sports. I have since moved away from this area but now have returned to my home state. I am looking forward to the opportunity to play on both the men's and women's teams this season. I would be honored to represent my hometown high school and to participate in this historic game. I believe that it is a great experience to represent my state and to play for the United States. I feel that it would be great to have my teammates support me if I were to be selected to represent the USA at this event. While we are always able to make a positive impact at any tournament, such as the U-19 event, playing in this event will be another experience we will be able to look back on when our international playing careers are over. I am proud to represent the East Coast and my high school with pride and hope to accomplish the goal of representing the USA at this event. Thanks for the chance to play for my home state and to represent my country.

Q: Summing values in a column while avoiding writing out the entire column value I am having trouble formatting my dataset to reduce duplication and produce a cleaner view of the data. I have a dataset with two columns (Date and Quantity). There are often multiple rows of identical dates. I want to write the sum of the quantity for each date. What I want it to look like: Date Total 12/10/2018 4.
