PS4DUMP has been updated with a working exploit for 3.75. The most recent version of. rarAmidst the backlash against the Supreme Court's (SC) verdict on the contentious case of Ram Janmabhoomi-Babri Masjid, an unidentified caller calls a Muslim clergyman from Uttar Pradesh's Shahjahanpur district, threatening to immolate him along with his entire family, if the community cannot accept the ruling. Maulana Hafiz Ashraf from Shahjahanpur has been using a prepaid SIM since 2006, and his number is among the top 20 in the country. Mohammad Usman, a former Mumbai Police Officer, runs a mobile phone service which does not track the caller's location. While the caller claims to be from the Hindu right wing, Usman has been tracking other such calls, where the caller says they are from the Bajrang Dal, in the past. "For such calls, we get the caller's location details from our customers' network providers in Pakistan and Saudi Arabia, and ask them to keep an eye on the caller," Usman tells The Hindu. He estimates that there are six or seven such pre-paid numbers in the country, which are usually known to authorities. Though he recalls the particular threat that he received, Mohammad Usman says the entire process
