STORY: In the Lands Between, a land where harmony reigns and lies in the face of great mysteries. The lowest races, the humans and the dwarves, are, due to widespread suffering, led by the immortal Elder Gods. The Gods, who put a stop to the Elden Gods' tyranny, demanded that power be left with a group of humans who swore to carry on the path of peace, which was halted by a great war among the Elden Gods. The Elden War permanently rained down darkness on the Lands Between. The four years of darkness have passed. The Wizards of the Ancient Era created powerful magic weapons and elevated the giants to be godly warriors. This was the start of the era of the Elden Gods.

The power of the Elden Ring was an indestructible power stone. The Elder Gods, who thirsted for world dominance, placed the stone in the power stone box as an ultimate weapon. The power stone box was built within the human empire, the Lands Between. The Elden Gods' influence spread further and further. It would take another 300 years before the Elder Gods' influence appeared in the current world. The Elden God who changed the world forever into the present time was predicted to be born from the chaos which resulted from the Elden War. If the Elden Ring is to be found, it will be this Elden God who will be born. The Elden God is to be born. To the Elden God which is to be born from that chaos, and mankind, who is held captive by the Elden Gods, the Gods, and the power stone box. In three thousand years, the Elden Gods have played their last card. They will defeat and erase humankind. Elden Ring Features Key:

Elemental Destruction Character Design: Units raise their strength and skill during leveling up to wield strong weapons. The combination of 5 elements was created in a way that allows units to powerfully use the concept of “differential control.” The concept of limitlessly surpassing the opponent by utilizing the element for which they are strong is a key to this game.

Different Elements of Skills: With 5 elements as the basic characteristics, you can readily wield the variety of skills and battle in different ways. The strange and wonderful attribute that flows in from the element may be a new approach to the match-up system for you to utilize.

Blazing Action: While speaking with players locally, we see a strong desire to see a blazin' action. We will meet this by tilting the screen and supporting vertical action. It will be a part of the game that lets you feel the battle.

Gameplay that satisfies a variety of tastes: Another characteristic of the action we are creating is that units on the weaker side can make use of the support of stronger units to stay alive. In other words, if you are against strong enemies, you are not only in a battle for survival, but one to outdo the opponent.

Propulsion: The game's physics are what will allow you to move and stand in an action game with ease. It adds a vivid and fantastic level of intensity to the game that brings an unprecedented action forward.

A map currently featuring the Felsenholt Plateau.

The Felsenholt Plateau is once again paying tribute to the most beautiful and wildest place in the world! In 2007, we conducted a survey that asked players how they would like to see the game developed, and gave them a chance to get involved in the game's development.

Requirements for DNA fingerprints to be collected in Nova Scotia. Since March 2008, CDN DNA fingerprinting has been employed in New Brunswick to provide an evidence collection tool in cases where the investigator has doubts about the capacity to collect fingerprints from a suspect as part of a criminal investigation. In this case investigation, it was identified that DNA evidence collection was not occurring in some cases. In response to these shortcomings, the Criminal Justice Bureau issued new policies, updated procedures and training of frontline investigators to provide a model for Nova Scotia. The centerpiece of this response was an initiative to collect DNA fingerprints from every person arrested in Nova Scotia. This activity has been ongoing since the summer of 2009 and is an effort that has embraced the entire Criminal Justice System.
