Need for Speed Hot Pursuit 2009 is a racing simulation game developed by Black Box and published by Electronic Arts. It is the fourth game in the Need for Speed series and the first title in the series to be released in PAL regions. The storyline of the game is set in the fictional year of 1999 and tells the story of a boy named Danâ   s (Danica Patrick) chance of becoming a Hollywood stunt driver. It is an open-world game where the player is given the ability to travel across San Francisco, drive over a variety of different routes, and choose what route to take. There are three different modes of play. The game was released for the Xbox 360 and PlayStation 3 video game consoles on June 11, 2009 and on PC, Windows mobile phones, and later for Wii and PlayStation Portable, on October 2, 2009. The game was a success, with sales reaching over 4 million units. The only real differences between this and the original Hot Pursuit are in the graphics and the customization screen. Other than that, the game has the same content. A third expansion pack titled Shift 2: Unleashed was made for the game. It adds new routes, a new character, and new cars, as well as fixing the previously mentioned issues. Additionally, the update adds a new kind of Nitro called "Nitro Unleashing". On October 30, 2012, the PC, PlayStation 3 and Xbox 360 versions of Need for Speed Hot Pursuit released their final content update as the series went on its final chapter. The game saw two more updates released after that, including a one-time free patch to help players solve some of the issues the game had (i.e. crashing and buggy issues) and a PC only patch with a number of additions and bug fixes. Contents Story Like the previous Need for Speed titles, the storyline of Hot Pursuit revolves around a boy named Dan who is a thrill-seeking stunt driver. After his father is tragically killed in a £250,000 car accident in Lag
