Autodesk 2019 Black.WATCH: Move over, South Korea, the Philippines is now the world's 14th-largest economy — and it's growing faster than the United States. Business Insider called this out recently. The Philippines is now the world's 14th-largest economy, according to the World Bank. It has surged in recent years thanks to a massive loan from the International Monetary Fund. "The Philippines is the fastest growing large economy in the world," said Christine Lagarde, managing director of the IMF. The IMF estimates that the Philippines' economy will grow at a 4.9% annual rate in 2015. This is higher than the U.S. and Germany, and just below Japan. What has allowed the Philippines to out-grow its closest rivals so quickly? The country has enjoyed nine years of growth and has seen inflation fall below 2%. The IMF says the country's strong export growth has helped it outstrip other countries. The IMF believes that growth will continue to be healthy, thanks to an expanding middle class and the government's efforts to improve education.

See id. In its motion for summary judgment, the Bank argued that it was entitled to summary judgment because the missing assignment was on its records. There is no evidence in the record of the Bank’s possession of the
